INVITE DONS TO DANCE IN COLLEGE GYM

KOLLEGIANS WILL PLAY

Refreshments And Free Dancing Offered At College Hop

Introducing an innovation in social functions, the Associated Women Students are sponsoring a "Tea Dansant" in Andrews gymnasium, Friday afternoon, February 6 from 3 to 6 p. m., all arrangements being in the hands of Miss Marcia Huber, president of the women's organization.

"This will be a free dance and a non-date affair", stated Miss Huber, as she pointed out that the dance would be following the sport motif. The spirit of the dance is to renew old friendships and create a feeling of friendliness with the new students. A collegiate dance band, under the leadership of Charles Teas, will furnish the music for the affair. The Kollegians have played for many college affairs and are well known on the campus. The personnel of the organization is Charles Teas, banjo; Bud Hartman, drums; Joe Warner, piano; Warren Schutz, trumpet; Warren Kimball, saxophone; Don Young, saxophone and Frances Flynn, trombone.

Miss Pauline Prescott is in charge of the decoration committee and will use spring as the principal motif. Punch and other refreshments will be in charge of Miss Dorothy Diehl, chairman and Isabelle Siracusa and Mary Ford. If the idea of having an informal "hop" of this type goes over with the students, it is planned to sponsor them at regular intervals, it was announced by the A. W. S. officials.

"Be A Regular Don," Says Warmer

We, who have learned to know and love Santa Ana Junior College, greet you. We congratulate you on deciding to continue your schooling, are glad that you chose Santa Ana, and hope you'll not be sorry. Every old student will be more than glad to help you. Ask them questions. Make friends among them. Get the real Don spirit. "A Hello for everybody and a smile for all." With such a spirit, you cannot help but like college.

Soon you will find extra-curricular activities which you will enter. Whether it be in forensics, in athletics, in drama, in the social life, in our musical department, or in any of the many other activities enter into it "fullheartedly". With something to do all the time, your studies will come easy. College will be a dark alley of constant grinding, but a happy thoroughfare of happy and profitable times. Someone has said, "Get your happiness out of your work, or you will never know what happiness is." College is our work—let us enter into and really enjoy it.

Music will be the predominating feature of the program and an instrumental trio composed of Miss Aileen Lair, piano; Miss Frances Kilbourne, violin and Eddie Burns, cello; will also play several selections. The last few minutes of the assembly will be devoted to the W. A. A. for some important business.

BULLETIN

11 a. m. The expected enrollment of over 500 failed to materialize this morning and up to a late hour, only 374 students had completely finished their matriculation work. This total was expected to be increased materially during today and tomorrow, it was learned from the office and students are expected to continue registration for the remainder of this week. Late comers may enroll two or three weeks later.

A steady flow of students has been going through the process of matriculation Monday Tuesday and this morning. At the end of the session on Tuesday evening, approximately 374 students had completely finished their registration requirements. As is customary, the advisory periods took up most of the time in the process.

An increase of about 50 students was predicted by school officials before registration and this forecast was practically fulfilled already. Most Orange county high schools although many also transferred from other California schools.

Between 10 and 15 present Dons are graduating and several have dropped, but despite these losses, the influx of new pupils makes up for the deficit.

Members of the faculty have taken charge of the registration and work in shifts, both as advisers and checkers. No changes in program may be made until Thursday of this week but after that, changes may be made for three weeks, without loss of credit.

Many New Students Added To A. S. B. Membership Roll

Membership in the Associated Student Body was received by 24 students for the first time this semester, it was learned from Vernon Valentine, treasurer, bringing the total number of membership cards to 334.

At the first of last semester, in September, the treasurer sold 310 tickets, which admitted the holders into full membership in the college. Several of these cards were not paid for but only a few refused to carry out their notes in the mid-term, it was learned late today. An active campaign has just been concluded to sell the tickets during the registration period.

The Associated Student cards give a student admittance to all athletic games, social functions, a copy of the Don each week, the Algo! in June and the right to vote at all elections for the college officials.

Flowers Supervises Don This Semester

Edgar M. Flowers, new journalism instructor and faculty adviser for the Don and the Generator, junior college and high school publication, assumed his new duties this week, taking the place of U. Grant B. Meyer, who was promoted to the position left open by C. C. Stewart, public speaking professor, who transferred to Pasadena.

John "Sky" Dunlap, editor-in-chief Herman Hoch, managing editor and Oran Asa, sport editor, had entire charge of putting out the Don this week because the new journalism class met for the first time this morning. The paper during examination week was in charge of Rodney Chamberlain, retiring editor.

Grades Held Until Library Fines Paid

Many students are still delinquent on library fines, it was learned today from Miss Lillian Dickson, head librarian, nad these payments will have to be cleared up in the near future or grades will not be issued to the offending students.

It has been found necessary to withhold the grades to compel students to pay their fines and a list has been posted on the bulletin board, giving the tolls for each student. Money will be accepted at all hours in the library by any librarian in charge.

Officers Of Sunday Morning Breakfast Club Take Office

Members of the Breakfast club elected Felix Garnsey president for the coming semester at the home of Miss Linda Paul, on 2105 N. Main street on February 2.

Bill Reinhardt was chosen as vice-president and Bill Crawford will be secretary and treasurer of the club. Group singing and discussions were held under the leadership of Dean McKee Fisk, faculty adviser of the club.

"Harmony of the Gospels" will be the new volume that will be used for discussion material. A chapter is used each week for the topic of the hour which is led by the adviser.

The club officials stated that there was an excellent attendance at the discussion. Meetings are held by this group each Sunday morning from 9:30 to 11 a. m.

Y. M. C. Officers Elected At Noon

Instead of electing officers for the coming semester at their meeting, members of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet postponed this important business until this noon, last night.

The cabinet officials met at the home of the president, George Warmer, 613 Spurgeon street. A report was received that Dr. Baker, the scheduled speaker for the banquet on "Y" day would be unable to be present so it was decided to have a breakfast instead. This will come on February 26 and more details will be supplied later. Dr. Baker, head of the Methodist missionaries in Japan and Korea, is very famous as a lecturer and discussion groups and talks had been planned for him to lead.

Old, New Executive Boards Hold Joint Meetings Monday

All future meetings of the Executive Board will be held at 5 p. m. on Monday afternoons and for every minute a member is late, he shall be fined one cent, it was decided at the joint meeting of the old and new members Monday afternoon.

The meeting was called by George Warmer, newly elected Associated Student president, to have all reports and tentative programs cleared up before actual business starts next Monday. Official pins were also ordered by most of the commissioners present.

The new board will meet for the first time next Monday in the A. S. B. office, one of the principal items of business being the confirmation and approval of the Don staff for this semester. The new student officials are as follows: George Warmer, president; Abbott Mason, vice-president; Mildred Staples, secretary; Vernon Valentine, treasurer; Warren Schutz, commissioner of men's athletics; Katherine Walbridge, commissioner of women's athletics; John "Sky" Dunlap, editor of the Don, Lavinia Compton, editor of the Algo!; Margaret Clifton, commissioner of forensics and Ada Marie Hendrickson, commissioner of social activities.

His loss will hamper the "Y" day activities, but the other events planned for the day will still leave a enjoyable program for this day, when both the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. join together.

A special issue of the Don, in charge of Rod Chamberlain, former editor, an assembly in the afternoon and the "Hello Day" festivities are other features of the day.

Bachelors Elect Ernest Stump To Executive Chair

Ernest Stump, football star for two years, was elected grand exalted of the Brotherhood of Bachelors at a meeting last night, featuring an election of officers for the coming semester.

The meeting, held at the home of Sterling Barnett, 1302 South Van Ness avenue, was the first meeting of the year. Warren Schutz, commissioner of athletics, was elected senior exalted, Jack Sweetnam, junior exalted; Carl Planchon, keeper of the writ; Crawford Nalle, keeper of the purse, Bill Crawford, bouncer and George Warmer, member at large.

The Lake Norconian club is to be the scene of the annual Brotherhood of Bachelors ball and the date has been definitely set for February 22, George Washington's birthday. This elite affair, one of the outstanding social events of the year, is open to all students of the college, alumni and other interested parties are able to secure tickets.

The dance is to be held in the main ballroom and not the casino, it was explained by club officials. A modern stage that equals many of the largest theatres, is a feature of the ballroom and many varied light-

Don Students Write For Verse Magazine

Editors of "First the Blade", the intercollegiate anthology of poetry, to be published this year by Scripps College, are calling this week upon 75 colleges of California, including the Santa Ana junior college, for their best verse.

T. H. Glenn, head of the English department, who is in charge of the local contributions, expects to send the work of many students in to the magazine to compete for the $75 in prizes being awarded to the college whose students make the most outstanding contributions.

Fullerton published the first volume in 1927 and Redlands the second. The editors this year are Caroline Bennett, Jane Brandenstein, and Mary Fischer of Scripps College. Judges include R. W. Borst, Fullerton, Miss Edith R. Mirrieles, Stanford, Benjamin H. Lehman, University of California, Elliott C. Lincoln, Pomona, and Glenn Hughes, Scripps College.

All local students interested are urged to see Mr. Glenn as soon as possible so that a large amount of verse can represent Santa Ana.

Delmer Brown New Lion Leader

Unanimously the Junior Lions elected Delmer Brown as president of the organization for the coming semester, when the club held its regular meeting at the home of Eric Twist, 1520 North Main street.

Other officials of the club are Abbott Mason, vice-president; Fred Humiston, secretary; Eric Twist, treasurer. John Wykes was selected as tail twister and Vernon Valentine as lion tamer. Bill Hewitt and Willard Minor are the newly appointed directors.

A program for the Senior Lions to be given on February 13 in the St. Ann's Inn are being rapidly formulated according to Felix Garnsey, who is in charge of the committee. Assisting Garnsey are Fred Humiston, Ed Meador and Virgil Brown.

Ray Glesener was pledged into the group. "Truck" Lindsey and Virgil Brown were initiated with appropriate ceremonies.

The next meeting of the club will be held at Ketner's cafe on February 10.

Hammond Greets Dons, Donas

"As you enter upon your work in the Santa Ana Junior College it is my pleasure to wish you on behalf of the faculty Buena Ventura. As a newly adopted Don or Dona we hope that you will soon become a loyal member of our Familia and will enjoy all the rights and privileges which membership guarantees. Loyalty, friendship and knowledge is the threefold aim of our institution. Work hard and play hard. Put your whole mind into present action. Have faith in your ability to meet any emergency and like the Dons of old you will make conquests which will carry you on to victory and success. Any service that we can render is yours to command."

Bright Prospect Predicted For Don Track Team This Year; New Jaycee League Divided Into Two Sections

Prospects for the Santa Ana junior college's track team are brighter this year than ever before and Coach "Bill" Cook has several good performers returning from last year, and a host of freshmen to fill in the gaps left by graduation.

Candidates are working out each night, and Coach Cook expects to enter a team in the San Bernardino Orange Show Relays on February 15. A medley relay team, consisting of two 220, and 880, and a mile, a four man quarter mile, and a four man mile relay team are to be taken to San Bernardino.

The conference has been divided into two sections for the track season. San Bernardino, Chaffee, Riverside, Citrus, Pomona, and Fullerton should all run around 10.4 in the 100 and 23 flat in the 22 yard dash.

Captain Joe Warner will probably step the quarter in around 5 flat. To help him out will be Schutz, Whisler, "Swede" Whisler and Joe Rodriguez are in the eastern section with Santa Ana.

The way things look now, Captain "Red" Guyer, crack sprinter, is the biggest loss to the Dons. To fill in this loss Coach Cook has four candidates, John Keeler, Warren Schutz, and Dresser.

Tommy Cone, former Saint captain who entered at the first of the second semester, should run the half mile around 2 flat. To help him out, will be Ed Adams from last year's team, Carl Schoenberg, Wayne Garlock, Phillip Martin and George Warner.

Tommy Cone and Tom Donahue, and Leroy Arnold will probably run the mile with Donahue and Arnold taking care of the two mile.

In the high jump Santa Ana will be fairly well represented. Art Jacques, who while at Santa Ana high threatened six feet, should come through this year. Vernon Valentine and Jack Swetnam are back from last year.

Jack Sweetnam, "Truck" Lindsey and Wayne Barholemew are groomed to take care of the high hurdles with Tommy Cone the only candidate for the 220 yard low hurdles. Jack Rimel, who is good for 11 feet, and Art Jacques will be entered in the pole vault.

In the weights, Joe Warner, Vernon Valentine, Ernest Stump and Carol Bertolet will be prominent, all four throwing the shot and discus. Melvin Beatty and Ed Adams will be entered in the javelin.

Coach "Bill" Cook has issued a call for all those out, or intending

Santa Ana Athletes Join Trojan School

Two Santa Ana junior college athletes, Maurice "Red" Guyer, and Blanchard Beatty have entered the University of Southern California. Both plan to carry on their studies there, and perform for Coach Dean Chomwell's Trojan track team.

Guyer should gain national prominence with the Trojans as a sprinter. While at Santa Ana he was consistent at 9.8 seconds for the 100 yard dash and several times covered the distance in 9.7 sec. At U. S. C. he will team up with Frank Wykoff, former Glendale sprinter. It was while Guyer was at Santa Ana jaycee and Wykoff was at Glendale, that Guyer forced the Glendale boy to run the century in 9.6 to beat him. The race at present he holds the conference record for the 220 at 21.6 sec.

to come out for track to meet him in the auxiliary gym at 4 p. m. tomorrow, Thursday, February 6. He also wants several candidates for track manager very much and anyone interested should see him as soon as possible.

Local Basketball Squad Doped To Defeat Visiting Citrus Cagers In League Match Here Friday Night

After taking on most of the stronger teams of the conference right in a row, Coach Bill Foote's jaycee cage team will play hosts to the Citrus junior college in Andrews gymnasium Friday night.

Citrus is one of the supposedly weaker teams of the conference. Like the Dons, they have won but one game, and both teams will be out to increase their percentage.

Citrus junior college is located near Covina and the team is made up of small men, and consequently the Dons, with all their six-footers should be made the favorite.

An interesting side light to the game is the fact that the Citrus team has a one-armed player on their team. This man, named Miers, one of the leading defensive players in the junior college conference.

Coach Foote will probably start Dunham and Schuchardt at forwards, Twist at center, and Valentine and Captain Sweetnam at guards. His other team consisting of Brown and Tanaka forwards, Beatty center, and Lindsey and Squier guards will also probably see action.

Beatty is also somewhat of a track man. He tosses the javelin and should touch the 180 foot mark at the Los Angeles university. Beatty will also go out for football in the fall. While at Santa Ana junior college he earned himself the distinction of being the best quarterback ever to be produced there. He also excelled in basketball, baseball, swimming.

JUNIOR COLLEGE BOOKS AND SUPPLIES ALWAYS IN STOCK

YOU NEVER HAVE TO WAIT USED BOOKS AT HALF PRICE

You students usually want a thing when you want it, don't you? It isn't much fun to need a text book or a flock of necessary supplies and then have to wait for them, is it? The Santa Ana Book Store reminds you this simply to emphasize the fact that whatever investment has been necessary to keep Junior College books and supplies IN STOCK ALL THE TIME, we have put into such a stock.

You'll always find text books here—plank down the money and you have the book right then and there, even though it may be something that is not used a great deal.

Our close contact with Junior Colleges and their needs and the suppliers of those needs enable us to start our Used Book Department. We get these text books from other Junior Colleges, books that have been used. We pass them on to you at a great saving. This has proven a great service to lots of students.

We liked the Junior College idea from its first beginning in Santa Ana and that's one reason why we have followed it so closely and tried to be of real service. We pay more attention to our student trade in proportion than to other kinds. And we appreciate the students' response to the various services we develop for them. All in all, it is mighty satisfactory.

You know how welcome you are here. And how glad we are to give you the service you need and want!

Students and faculty combined to give a surprise party in the honor of C. C. Stewart, former forensic and debate coach of the Santa Ana junior college, Monday evening in the "Y" hut. Stewart leaves the Don faculty to join the Pasadena school system.

Dean McKee Fisk made a short speech, highly commending the excellent work that has been accomplished through the leadership of Stewart. Baxter Geeting, Santa Ana's Southern California forensic champion, gave an impromptu talk, congratulating Stewart's splendid instruction. Jerry Tannenbaum also gave a short talk praising the former coaches' work.

Following the short talk, a brief program was given by several mem-

Algol Staff Meets Wednesday Evening

Meeting to clear up any obstacles in the writing of the Algol, staff members of the yearbook will hold a special meeting at 8 p. m. in the A. S. B. office, it was announced by Miss Lavinia Compton, editor-in-chief of the book.

The art staff will be given a complete outline of their work and the entire book will be gone over with precision. Work is progressing very nicely at present and the schedule posted in the office is being followed very closely by the section editors. The periodical will be put in the hands of the publishers within the next two months and it is hoped to have the annual out early enough to let the students have plenty of time to get signatures before graduation.

Cows In Oklahoma Support Students

Cows support students at the University of Oklahoma. The students at the college are allowed to bring two cows, no more, to college in order to support themselves. The "support" presumably comes from the milk, butter and cream and maybe cheese that the cows produce. While this idea is somewhat new in the way of earning pocket money for the collegiates, the advantages can easily be seen. Students will rise early in the morning to be on hand for the gathering and delivering of the products. This will do away with late hours at night for which students are noted, and not for studying. The rising with dawn will create a belated admiration for the sunrise. This will aid the art students. The outdoor life will furnish beef and brawn for the Oklahoma football team. Furthermore, since Jennings discovered that milking cows is as good a preventative from small pox as an injection, the students of the university will be singularly free from that disease.

What consideration is shown for the cows by the authorities. Notice that two of the animals are allowed to come to school for each student. This means that there will console each other when they get lonesome. The faculty of the University of Oklahoma has proved itself to be a far sighted and considerate one when dealing on the subject of pets and part time jobs.

He walked gloomily along the bridge. His brow was furrowed as if he were in deep thought. He seemed to be debating something. He took an object out of his pocket and gazed at it. "No", he muttered. "I must not. Too much risk." He put the object back into his pocket and resumed his lonely tread. He walked only a short time, then stopped. "I cannot endure it," he panted. A cold sweat broke out upon his brow. He took the object out of his pocket again, put it into his mouth; took another smaller object and scratched it on the walk. A gust of wind came along and blew it out. He cursed, threw the pipe into the river, and walked swiftly away. It was his last match.

I burn my candle at both ends; It will not last the night, But ah, my friends, and ho, my foes; I have electric light.

Slogan Contest Prizes Offered By Combined Y's

CLOSING DATE FEB. 18

First Contributions To Be Submitted Today

"Hello Day", an annual custom in the Santa Ana junior college, will be one of the highlights of the "Y" Day festivities on February 26 and to insure enthusiasm for the affair, the officials in charge are sponsoring a slogan contest for the "Hello Day" cards.

Jac Crawford, who has charge of the drive and all arrangements for the day, is offering two tickets to the big banquet in the evening to the student who submits the best slogan to go on the card. All slogans must be in the hands of the committee before February 18 and the winner will be announced the next day in The Don.

Judges for the contest have already been appointed and are L. L. Beeman, adviser for the Y. M. C. A., Mrs. Jennie Lasby Tessmann, adviser for the Y. W. C. A., and Dean McKee Fisk. Abbott Mason is to draw the design for the card and may illustrate the slogan.

Plans for the day are progressing rapidly and many committees are working hard to make the day a success. The "Y" assembly, to be held at the regular time, is to be a surprise and a special edition of The Don will be edited by Rodney Chamberlain, former editor. The banquet will conclude the lengthy program of the day.

ing and scenic effects will be introduced during the evening. Tickets went on sale today and the ticket campaign is in charge of Chester Page. They are selling for $1.50 a couple. Other important Bachelor doings during the Bachelor week are the publication of the Don and presentation of the regular assembly. Arthur Beddoes has been put in charge of the assembly program and is arranging a high class entertainment. Rodney Chamberlain, former editor of the Don and Carl Bergman, former managing editor, will have charge of the publication on Wednesday and the biggest part of the paper will deal with Bachelor doings.

When the Bachelors club was organized in 1925, it was the purpose to have an annual ball and the past "hops" have been held in Anaheim, at the Santa Ana country club and several other places. Plans for the event this year are to combine the ball with a homecoming for Bachelor alumni. Former Bachelors, now attending U. S. C., U. C. L. A., Stanford, Pomona and other colleges have promised to come and it is hoped that Don Hillman, organizer and first grand exalted of the organization can be present. He is a traveling agent for the American Express company and tours the entire world at present.

THE NEW SEMESTER

Once again, the worries of registration and confusion of new classes and instructors has taken hold of the college. Sad students bemoan the fact that their favorite course conflicts with gym or chemistry or some other necessary for graduation and everyone else runs around frantically doing this and that. However, after a few days, the Donnas and Dons will resume their tranquillity and activities will move along as smoothly as usual. Prospects are very bright for another eventful semester with the new officers in charge. It should be the aim of every real Don to support their plans and activities to benefit the college. Patronize the social functions, go to the games, attend the debates, get into club doings, exercise your literary and musical talents and be in all the assemblies. Don't be a wallflower, but make this one of the best years in college history!

ASSEMBLIES

The need for attending assemblies every Wednesday cannot be too strongly impressed on the minds of all students, especially the incoming freshmen and transfers. Important announcements are usually given in these weekly meetings and the plays given by the drama classes are well worth seeing. Music is of the best and both instrumental and vocal numbers are contributed by loyal students. Start off the new semester right and occupy a chair today at one o'clock with the rest of the student body.

TEA DANSANT

Trying out something new in social ideas, the A. W. S. is sponsoring a "Tea Dansant" Friday afternoon for all students in the college. Just why the word "tea" is in there remains to be seen for responsible parties maintain that punch instead of tea will be served. At any rate, drop in any time between 3 and 6 p. m. Friday and enjoy a dance or two. No dates, strictly informal and good chance to get filled up on punch.

Personality

It is wonderful, this thing that we call personality, which includes your voice, your appearance, your manners, your appearance, your manners, your conversation and everything about you that impresses you on those with whom you come in contact as an individual;—different from every other person in the world. To have a charming personality you do not have to be beautiful. You do not even need to be wonderfully clever, but you do have to be careful, clean, courteous, well informed and always ready to be at your best and to give people your best.—The Short-Horn.

Book Review

Mr. Nowlin thinks it possible for a story teller to instill into a boy a greater love for study, a deeper reverence for books and a keener appreciation of their content. In "The Story Teller and His Pack" he shows how this can be done. The book is of definite value and interest not only to students of the technique of story telling, but also to the parent or teacher exploring the fields of reading for children. Mr. Nowlin discusses the origins and development of stories and the telling of them, and gives to his readers a working knowledge of how some of the most famous of all stories have come into being. His references and bibliographies cover a wide field, from the most primitive expressions of folk lore to the most subtle exercise of the modern short story. With economy, but not in meager detail, he touches upon almost every phase of verbal expression that might be called a story.

Mr. Nowlin's book is a convincing word in the controversy over the discarding or retaining of the old myths and fairy tales. Those persons who would isolate children in a world of modern realism, denying them "the loveliness that is known only in a tale," should read his arguments in favor of antiquity.

Mr. Nowlin stresses the value of the well written biographical sketch in evoking a conscious something from the school lesson that is too often a senseless nothing.

NEW STUDENTS SAY:

Hm, so this is Santa Ana J. C.? Lots of live wire students but where's the campus? This outfit ought to rate a real campus. Dirty shame. Over 500 enrolled and no real campus. Something wrong with that picture.

There goes another mustache. Sure thick around here. All sizes, shapes, colors and descriptions. Have to try one.

Faculty is a little to sedate. Some of those profs ought to wear knickers to class. They have no idea what a help that is in a class. Creates sort of informal atmosphere. Everyone sort of loosens up.

Hey, where's the side show? If you laid those two guys end to end they'd reach someplace, I'll bet. Egad, there's another and another. They must be offering a major in longitudinal growth here.

This registration and what not gives me a well known pain.

Sure a friendly bunch around here. Guess I'm going to like this route.

Down in Texas recently a host inquired of his guest while at dinner whether the guest would have some corn. The guest passed his glass instead of his plate. — "Is this a social error?"

"So you asked the grocer for credit. Did you get it?"

"Yes and no."

"What do you mean?"

"He said he'd give me credit for having a lot of nerve, but not for any groceries."

SMART SAYINGS

Students, have you noticed what a really nice and artistic job of landscaping Nelson Conway and Carl Bergman have done on their newly acquired and quite sparse cookie dusters? Several of said objects around the campus do not seem to be showing up quite so well. It has been intimated that mascara isn't entirely satisfactory, so what are the blonds going to do?

Pedestrian— "Hey! Why don't you blow your horn?"

Motorist— "Who do you think I am, Little Boy Blue?"

Host— "I have it all arranged. You will sit on my right hand at dinner."

Guest— "Sir! how dare you suggest such a thing to a lady."

Boss: "I'm to be initiated into a secret order tonight and I'm scared stiff."

Clerk: "Why so?"

Boss: "Only a month ago I sold the supreme exalted potentate of the order my second hand flivver."

Advertiser— Yes, once I got ten dollars a word."

Manager — "Hmn! How was that?"

Advertiser— "I talked back to the judge."

He Was Right.

"Here lies the body of William Day. He died maintaining his right of way; William was right as he sped along. But he's just as dead as if he'd been wrong."
